STATEMENT

(In the space below, please provide the showing of unavoidable delay recited in paragraph 8 above.)

2013 Jan 23 PM 3:06

(Please attach additional sheets if additional space is needed)

Name of Inventor: Carlos Florez
Patent Number: 6,253,480
Application Number: 09/276,107
Issue Date: 07/03/2001
Filing Date: 03/25/1999
Ref payment year: 7 - 7.5 years and 11 – 11.5 years
Entity Status: Small

The reason why I missed paying the scheduled 7.5 years maintenance fee of my patent and why I consider that it was unavoidable is very simple: that year and the following several years have been the worst economic times I have ever had in my life.

I am a small business owner; the name of my company is American Automation Systems, Inc. we are duly registered in the state of Florida since 1994. We sell automation equipment, conveyors and packaging machines to several industries. Unfortunately since the economy started to decline a few years ago, my personal economy went with it. At all times I had to choose between taking care of the urgent things like keeping the company open, or the important ones such as paying for my house or the maintenance of the patent. I chose the first one.

Because of that decision, during the last 4 years I lost the house I was living in with my family, my car was reposed, I lost my marriage and got divorced, and my business went from having over 20 employees to having 3. Even with that few employees, there were times in which I felt behind paying their salaries. That is just to mention a few of the hardships I had to endure over these years.

Just since last year the business has begun to rebound and I have been able to start to settle unpaid debts from that time; that includes doing whatever possible to have this patent re-instated.

I am attaching copies of my personal bank statements from June of 2009 through June of 2011 to show you the condition of my finances. Also, I am sending you copy of one of the court documents filed by Chase Mortgage in the process of repossessing my house.

Since my personal income is completely dependent of my company, I am also attaching a summary of the Profit and Loss reports for the business for those years for your consideration.

Before the economy started to fall apart, I had created a company to further develop, manufacture and market the product of the patent. It also lapsed, however just recently I brought it back current and it is from that company that I am sending payment for the delinquent maintenance fee plus the surcharge for re-instatement.
